BY PARK BENJAMIN.

I saw the soldiers come to-day
From battle field afar;
No conqueror rode before their way
On his triumphal car.
But captains, like themselves, on foot,
And banners sadly torn,
All grandly eloquent, though mute,
In pride and glory borne.

Those banners, soiled with dirt and smoke,
And rent by shot and shell,
That through the serried phalanx broke—
What tales they could tell!
What tales of sudden pain and death
In every cannon's boom,
When even the bravest held his breath
And waited for his doom.

By hands of steel these flags were waved
Above the carnage dire,
Almost destroyed, yet always saved,
Mid battle clouds and fire.
Though down at times, still up they rose
And kissed the breeze again,
Dread tokens to the rebel foes
And true and loyal men.

And here the true and loyal still
Those famous banners bear;
The bugles wind, the fifes blow shrill,
And clash the cymbals, where
With decimated ranks they come,
And through the crowded streets
March to the beating of the drum
With firm though weary feet.

God bless the soldiers! cry the folk
Whose cheers of welcome swell;
God bless the banners, black with smoke
And torn by shot and shell!
They should be hung on sacred shrines,
Baptized with grateful tears,
And live embalmed in poetry's lines,
Through all succeeding years.

No grander trophies could be brought
From patriot sire to son,
Of glorious battles nobly fought,
Brave deeds sublimely done.
To-day, tears chased down with pride
And solemn joy to see
Those remnants from the bloody tide
Of victory.

Release of Prisoners.

St. Louis, N. B., March 10.

Justice Richie to-day ordered the release of the Chesapeake prisoners, brought before him by a writ of habeas corpus.

Conclusion of Arguments.

WASHINGTON, March 8th.

Final arguments in the quicksilver case was concluded to-day.

The Gold Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, March 11th.

Gen. Grant left for Nashville to-day. The gold bill as amended by Sherman with further amendments restricting the anticipation of payment of interest on the public debt to a period of one year, was passed by a vote of 30 to 8. The Post-office bill was then called up and passed.

General News.

LOUISVILLE, March 12th.

Officers from Knoxville the 6th say: It is the general opinion there, that Longstreet has been ordered to North Carolina.

St. Louis, March 12th.

Advices from Natchez the 2d, says: Reliable information puts the rebel force in western Louisiana at between five and six thousand, under Dick Taylor. The enemy are fortifying Fort Dequay on Black river and Trinity on Onehita. Only a provost guard at Shreveport. Three rams are building below that point. The rebel gunboat Webb, recently showed herself at the mouth of Red river. We have quite a fleet of iron-clad rams collecting there.

WASHINGTON, March 12th.

The Ways and Means Committee completed their amendment to the National Banking bill, establishing a uniform rate of interest at seven per cent. allowing existing State Banks to retain their respective names and number of Banks.

Gen. Grant intends to concentrate all our western forces from the boundary of Texas to Mississippi, in camps for smashing blows this spring. Another call will soon be issued for two or three hundred thousand men.

WHEELING, Va., March 12th.

Letters from Braxton county report Jackson and Imboden with a large force within a short distance of Sutton, preparing for a raid. We have a few companies in Braxton county and other points in that part of the State, but it is doubtful whether the Union troops here are sufficiently strong to resist the rebel advance. Gen. Sigel has arrived here and will take command of this military department.

LOUISVILLE, March 12th.

Under the new order of things it is understood Schofield will remain in command of Eastern Tennessee. Thomas at Chattanooga, and Hooker, Logan, Hurlbut and Granger, will no doubt also retain their present positions as corps commanders.

FORTRESS MONROE, March 10th.

A skirmish took place yesterday two miles this side of Suffolk, between the enemy and three companies of our colored cavalry. The rebel loss, 25 ours, 10 killed.

SUFFOLK, Va., March 10th.

Our forces entered Suffolk this morning, after a brief struggle; we now hold the place.

NEWARK, N. C., March 11th.

Everything is in readiness for the reception of the enemy in North Carolina, whose mysterious movements it is difficult to understand. A deserter says that he heard his officers say that Plymouth was to be the first point of attack.

A Union soldier who recently escaped from Goldboro, reports that a great riot took place at Raleigh on the occasion of hanging native Union soldiers, and that Pickett's troops from Kingston, passed through Goldboro to quell the outbreak in the city, where the stars and stripes were conspicuously displayed. The press was not allowed to speak of the matter. The Raleigh Standard was suppressed soon after this affair.

A Letter from Fort Monroe.

NEW YORK, March 11th.

A Fortress Monroe letter of the 8th, says: Last evening news reached

Gen. Butler that the enemy had been troubling our lines between Portsmouth and Suffolk. After a consultation had between him and Kilpatrick, the result was, that the latter's command was removed from Yorktown to Portsmouth; he also sent reinforcements to our lines in front of Portsmouth. Our advance are in pursuit of the enemy. It was ascertained from the front yesterday, p. m., that the enemy's force consisted of two thousand infantry and two regiments of cavalry, and four pieces of artillery; this may have been an advanced force only. Our force is quite sufficient to defend the front, and place troops in such a position as to cut off the enemy's retreat.

Virginia Constitutional Convention.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., March 10th.

The following report from the Committee on Emancipation, passed the Constitutional Convention at noon to-day, with only one dissenting vote: Your Committee on Emancipation beg leave to report as a part of the Constitution of Virginia, to be inserted in the same, under the caption of slavery or freedom.

First. That slavery or involuntary servitude, except for crime, are hereby abolished and prohibited forever.

Second. That Courts of competent jurisdiction, may apprentice minors of African descent on like conditions as provided by law for apprenticing white children.

Third. That the General Assembly shall make no law establishing slavery, or recognizing property in human beings.

Orleans Adverses.

NEW YORK, March 11th.

Orleans advices of the 1st state that military movements are still in progress for the re-possession of the country beyond the Tche. The bombardment of Fort Powell, below Mobile, continued vigorously. The rebel batteries replied, but none of our vessels were seriously hurt; the only casualty on our side, was the wounding of one man.

A letter from the fleet, says, Farragut intends to silence Fort Powell, and to send the Musquito Fleet into Mobile bay; by so doing he will cut off Fort Morgan.

Gaines' bay is said to be obstructed three miles below Mobile in such a manner that vessels are compelled to pass under the guns of two iron clad forts and a battery on the west side of Mobile, which is defended strongly at every point. The ram Tennessee still lies in the bay of Mobile, almost destitute of soldiers, thirty thousand having gone to meet Sherman.

A Key West letter says that one of Farragut's steamers had passed Fort Morgan under a terrific fire; another rumor says he had captured the works.

DAILY UNION VEDETTE.

TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 15, 1864.

The Bannack and Boise Mails—The New Contract.

In yesterday's paper we printed a communication from our Bannack correspondent containing some pretty severe strictures on the manner in which the United States Mail is being carried—or rather not carried—to and from that region. We are informed that the mails which leave here regularly East from the Salt Lake office once a week, are accumulating in Cache Valley, and some have reached as far as Snake River. If the facts be true as stated by our correspondent, that no mail from this city had arrived at Bannack up to the 2d of March, there must have been great default on the part of the Contractor, and we do not wonder that the miners are indignant.

We understand that news has been received here by telegraph that a new contract has been let to Ben Holladay, Proprietor of the Eastern Division of the Overland Mail Company. Although we have not the details of this contract, we are informed that it provides for carrying the mail (tri-weekly we presume) from Salt Lake City to Boise mines on the northwest, and Bannack mines on the northeast. The mail will be carried in coaches from Salt Lake City to near Fort Hall on the Snake river, and thence two lines will diverge; one branch running to Virginia City (East Bannack) and the other to the Boise country, on the lower Snake.

This will be good news to the large and increasing population of these rich mineral districts. We learn also that an Agent of Holladay will start immediately to lay out the road and establish way stations. As soon as this is accomplished the road will be stocked, and in a very short time the stages will be running with regularity and speed.

The Eastern Bannack Express now advertises to carry letters and passengers to Virginia City in seven days, but when the new line shall be established we have no doubt that the stages will go through in four days at the outside.

Nothing so tends to open up a country as certain and speedy mail facilities, and the establishment of a line of coaches up and down and across the Continent, will make Utah and this great interior basin what nature designed them to be—the center of a large teeming, and industrious population.

THE CAMANCHE ALL RIGHT.—It will be remembered that some months ago the clipper ship Aquila, having on board as freight, the iron-clad monitor Camanche, was sunk in the harbor of San Francisco during a violent Southeaster. For a while all hopes of saving this splendid vessel was abandoned, but a party of divers were sent out from New York to undertake the task of raising the iron-clad. We are gratified to learn from the San Francisco papers that the work is progressing rapidly, and there is little doubt that not only the Camanche will be saved, but that also the Aquila will be raised. Already upwards of four hundred tons of the freight lying between decks and above the Camanche have been taken out, and at last dates the divers were commencing successfully to discharge the plates and iron ribs of the monitor. The bed plate of the engine, weighing some 11,000 pounds had been safely landed on the wharf, besides some two hundred tons of heavy chain cable. With the Camanche fairly afloat in the harbor and her monstrous guns mounted, no fears need afterwards be entertained of an attack from the Albatross or other piratical craft of the piratical Confederacy.

EN ROUTE.—On Sunday evening our section (there are no Sabbaths in war or in a newspaper office) was enlivened by the presence of Capt. A. N. Remyon, A. Q. M., who arrived on the eastern coach en route for Fort Churchill. Capt. R. has, until recently, been stationed at Fort Bridger, but having been relieved by Capt. Westbrook, now goes west to assume the Quartermastership and Commissariat at Churchill. He will tarry a day or so at Camp, then pursue his journey towards the golden land. We wish him a safe journey and a pleasant station.

LYNE'S DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT, TO-NIGHT.

We are pleased to announce that Mr. Lyne will give another of his interesting dramatic and musical entertainments this evening, at Music Hall, (near 14th Ward School House.) The programme presented offers plenty of variety, combining amusement and instruction. Mrs. Lynch will sing (well, we know) a choice repertoire of ballads, and the "young Salt Lake tragedian," Mr. Hardie, will give some of his inimitable imitations. We regret to be compelled to notice an exhibition of spleen or wantonness on the part of some miscreant, who goes about in the night destroying and defacing Mr. Lyne's posters and small bills around town. Efforts are being made to discover the rascal, and if successful we will print his or their names in full, besides promising summary punishment. We know of no type of consummate meanness more despicable than this, and we trust that somebody will be fortunate enough to catch the vagabond at his tricks and give him what he so richly deserves—a good sound basting.

Among the recitations promised by Mr. Lyne, are the "dagger scene from Macbeth," "Hamlet's advice to the players," "Rienzi's harangue to the Romans," "Hamlet on the immortality of the soul," etc. Let there be a full attendance.

Complimentary Benefit to Mrs. Irwin.

We are gratified to be able to announce that a grand complimentary benefit has been tendered to Mrs. S. M. Irwin, to take place on next Monday night at the City Theater. This lady during her long engagement the past winter, has won many admirers and troops of friends by her varied and always excellent impersonations in the most varied roles. A fine bill is in preparation for the occasion, and will in due season be announced. Of course, everybody will be on hand to enjoy, and at the same time render a deserved tribute to a most excellent artist and estimable lady.

Suisun Light Dragoons.

The following is extracted from the letter of a gentleman at Suisun, California, written to an officer at this Camp, and as it may be of interest to persons from that locality, we insert with pleasure. The song accompanying the letter was written by J. D. Brower, and patriotism is breathed forth in every line:

You must also know that we have a Cavalry Company here—the "Suisun Light Dragoons"—as fine a collection of men as ever mounted a horse or drew a saber. Its two former Captains, Richardson and Marston, have been promoted to Majors, and it is now under command of Captain W. W. Allen, a descendant of the famous Ethan, who valiantly fought on the side of the Great Jehovah and the Continental Congress, and if that is not good material from which to make up a soldier, please let me know by return mail or the earliest convenient opportunity where to find a better.

The ballad accompanying this note was written for the Company, upon the anniversary of Washington's Birth-Day; and knowing your unwavering patriotism, and inferring from it the devotion to their country of the men under the command of the gallant Commander—men from our own California, who nobly go forth to a soldier's duty beneath the shadow of that gallant old flag and the immutable principles it sustains; principles that every one having the least pretensions to the name of Freeman considers it an honor, as it is his duty, to defend. I transmit to you a copy, knowing that you will appreciate the sentiment as you revere the memory of him who called it forth.

Song of the Suisun Light Dragoons.

CAPTAIN W. W. ALLEN.

BY J. D. B.

Raise high your banners, boys,
Let the trumpet sound;
Belch forth, ye flaming cannon,
O'er Freedom's sacred ground;
For 'tis the natal day, boys,
Of America's gifted son—
Then let the welkin ring
For immortal WASHINGTON!
CHORUS—Then raise high your banners, etc.
When the war-cloud, dark and gloomy,
Hung o'er Columbia's land,
He hurled the base invader back
Upon his native strand;
The hope and pride of his country,
And a glorious peace he won,
While Freedom's shouts with joy arose
For immortal WASHINGTON!
CHORUS—Then raise high your banners, etc.

Then rally round your banner, boys,
And from Solano's plain
We'll cheer to-day the heroes away
Who are fighting the battle again;
For if a base and traitorous hand
Would strike our ensign down,
Learn, far and near, we yet revere
Our immortal WASHINGTON!
CHORUS—Then raise high your banners, etc.

A million Freeman's bayonets now
Are glittering in the sun—
They shall demand respect abroad,
And loyalty at home.
Success to Freedom's cause, boys!
And when a peace shall come,
We'll give a cheer for the heroes here,
And immortal WASHINGTON!

CHORUS—
Then raise high your banners, boys,
Let the trumpet sound;
Belch forth, ye flaming cannon,
O'er Freedom's sacred ground!
For 'tis the natal day, boys,
Of America's gifted son;
Then let the welkin ring
For immortal WASHINGTON!

The Gold Bill—Halleck's Status no longer in doubt.

CHICAGO, March 11th.

After the adjournment of the House to-day, there was an informal meeting of the Republicans, when the question was discussed as to what action should be taken on the gold bill, which had passed the Senate to-day; it was finally decided that in order to stop speculation, the Secretary's view of the question should be sustained by the Republicans.

Gen. Halleck's status is no longer a matter of doubt. Halleck reported yesterday to Gen. Grant, and was assigned to special duty here.

Lee's Troops in a starving condition.

NEW YORK, March 12th.

The Richmond Whig of the 9th says: It will take about one week more to rebuild the railroad to Lee's army. Lee sent out cavalry in all directions to seize everything in the shape of forage and subsistence for his troops. The circuitous route that everything has to come over by railroad, renders it impossible for Lee to secure enough over one line to keep his army from suffering.

The Whig says their force at the battle of Olustee, outnumbered the Federals two to one.

lignant contraband" is again at work. The body servant of Jeff. Davis is seen in Washington, and among other things tells the following. His name is Jim Dennison.

Jim accompanied Davis in his recent tour around the Confederacy, and describes the following scene as having occurred on the summit of Lookout Mountain. Looking down one bright day from the lofty eminence commanding a clear view into four States, and very distant view into the fifth, Davis and Yankees almost beneath his feet, in the valley, working like beavers on their fortifications. "I have them now," said he, "the trap I set for them." To which Gen. Pemberton, who was sitting on a bench beside him, replied, "Mr. Davis, you are Commander-in-Chief, and you are here. You see the enemy are in a trap, and can be captured by vigorous assault. I have been blamed for not having ordered a general advance on the enemy when they were drawing around their lines of circumvallation at Vicksburg. Do you now order an attack upon them down there below us, and I will set you a life that not one G—d—d—a man of the attacking column will ever come back across that valley, except as a prisoner."

[SPECIAL TO THE BOYSSON PRESS.]

Message from the President to the Senate.
WASHINGTON, March 11th.

The President sent a message to the Senate to-day, as follows: In compliance with the Senate's resolution respecting the points of commencement of the Pacific Railroad on the hundredth degree of west longitude and of a branch road from the western boundary of Iowa to said hundredth degree of longitude.

I transmit the accompanying report of the Secretary of the Interior conveying the information called for. I deem it proper to add, that on the 17th of November an Executive order was made on this subject and delivered to the President of the Union Pacific Railroad, which fixed a point on the western boundary of the State of Iowa, from which point the Company should construct their branch road to the hundredth degree of longitude, and declared it to be within the limits of townships of Iowa opposite Omaha. Since then the Company have represented to me that upon actual surveys made, it has determined upon the precise point of departure of its said branch road from the Missouri river, and have located the same as described in the accompanying Report of the Secretary of the Interior, which point is within the limits designated in my order of November; and inasmuch as that order is not on record in any of the Departments, and the Company desiring a more definite one, I have made an order, of which a copy is herewith transmitted; and I have caused the same to be filed in the Department of the Interior.

Signed: ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

The order referred to, is as follows: In pursuance of provisions of section nineteen, the act of Congress entitled "An Act to aid the construction of the railroad and telegraph from the Missouri river to the Pacific, etc.," and authorizing the President to fix a point on the western boundary of the State of Iowa, from which the Pacific Railroad Company is authorized to construct upon the most direct practicable route, subject to the approval of the President of the United States so as to form a connection with the line of said Company at some point within the hundredth meridian of longitude, I, Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States, upon application of said Company, do designate and establish such first above named point, on the western boundary of Iowa, east of and opposite Omaha.

Done at the City of Washington, this seventh day of March, 1864.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Colored Cavalry Attacked by Rebels.

NORFOLK, Va., March 10th.

Yesterday afternoon our picket line composed of the 2d colored cavalry, near Suffolk, was attacked by a force of the enemy, supposed to be four regiments of infantry, one regiment and a squad of cavalry, two full batteries. The pickets fell back to Bauer Hill, when reinforcements were sent to their assistance; the enemy seeing the strength of our column did not continue the pursuit. While the colored regiment was falling back there was continual skirmishing, at some points they stood their ground manfully, at others they became panic stricken. About one hundred are missing, two officers were killed. A force sent out subsequently, found the enemy in full force at Bernard's mill, where they still are; our troops are face to face with them; our position is impregnable.

Very interesting News.

CAIRO, March 13th.

Memphis dates of Friday state that Sherman had arrived there.

From Orleans Thursday, the 6th: Porter's fleet has captured the enemy's guns and ammunition at Trinity, on the Onachita; the rebel garrison had been driven out.

A small cotton boat had been captured on the 5th by a gang composed of outlaws from both armies; the crew was subsequently rescued.

The expedition that was sent up the Yazoo when Sherman moved on Meridian had returned to Vicksburg. It reached Fort Pemberton and returned to Yazoo City where the command disembarked and the boats sent to Vicksburg laden with cotton. While waiting for the return of the boats, the troops were attacked on the 5th by two brigades of rebel cavalry; the fighting was desperate, lasting from 10 a. m., until four p. m., the men fighting in the streets hand to hand. Our loss was eighteen killed; the enemy's was much heavier. The boats returned on Sunday and the troops re-embarked and returned to Vicksburg.

[SPECIAL TO THE DAILY UNION VEDETTE.]

Letter from Sir Francis Head to Seward—The hanging of twenty-three captured Soldiers at Kingston, N. C.

A special to the Commercial from Washington, says: Sir Francis Head has written a pungent letter to Seward, setting forth certain facts connected with the destruction in the time of the Canadian rebellion of the steamer Caroline, asserting that the position taken by the United States Government of that affair is diametrically opposite to the doctrine promulgated in his dispatch of July 11th, to Mr. Adams.

A Kingston correspondent of the Raleigh Confederate, speaking of the hanging on the 6th, in Kingston, of twenty-three captured soldiers, deserters from the rebel conscription, says:

The prisoners ascended the scaffold with a firm and elastic step and met their fate with unflinching fortitude; they asked no quarters and scornfully spurned all overtures of concession on condition of their returning to duty in the Confederate service. The multitude was moved to tears and openly denounced it as a cruel massacre. It is causing desertions from the confederate service by the wholesale and creating an indignation which, it is feared, will be uncontrollable.

It is reported that the rebels intend hanging the entire number of Union soldiers captured by them from Col. Foster's command, fifty-one in number, half of whom have never been in the rebel service. The native Union troops have decided to take the question of retaliation into their own hands and have given the officers who do not approve of such severe measures, the opportunity to resign; they have also given warning, that immediate death will be inflicted upon any officer who shall offer hereafter to surrender to the enemy or ask for quarter.

From returned Richmond prisoners.

Special to the Tribune: From returned Richmond prisoners I glean the following incidents connected with Kilpatrick's raid: When information reached Richmond that Kilpatrick had crossed the Rapidan, the most vigorous orders were issued respecting prisoners. When the fact became known that Kilpatrick was really approaching Richmond, the prison was mined and two hundred kegs of powder placed under it and every preparation made to blow the prisoners into eternity. Being ignorant that the prison was mined they had formed a plan to join our forces when they should enter the city. The guard was increased and strict orders were given to shoot any one who approached window or stairway. Three officers and one hundred and fifty of Kilpatrick's command were confined in cells, and fed only on corn paste and water.

The Sentinel says, that Kilpatrick's officers and men who were captured have been put in irons.
